

Nancy Kay Grace

Sharing a Touch of God's Grace

At Women's Retreats, Conferences & Seminars

Having a passion to encourage women in their faith during challenging times, Nancy speaks from her heart with genuine warmth, conviction and transparency.

Within eighteen months, Nancy experienced the life challenges of sending out her adult children, the loss of one parent and illness in the other, and her own health concerns. All this caused her to draw closer to the Lord through personal prayer and worship. She has continually sought to develop an "inner sanctuary" with the Lord, her refuge and strength.

The Lord has given Nancy the victory of His peace and courage over difficult circumstances, and she desires to pass this hope to others.

Nancy is married to her best friend, Rick, who is a senior pastor in northwest Arkansas. They have developed a partnership ministry as they have served in the local church for over 30 years. As a seasoned pastor's wife, she can encourage the hearts of pastor's wives, understanding their unique lifestyle and needs. Rick and Nancy have also developed their own marriage enrichment seminar to present at couple's events. They have traveled throughout the US and internationally sharing the hope of the Lord Jesus.

As a writer, Nancy has been published in several books and in Just Between Us, a magazine for women with a heart for ministry. Those books include Chicken Soup for the Soul: Celebrating Brothers and Sisters, Chicken Soul for the Father-Son Soul, The One Year Life Verse Devotional, and Refined By Fire: Defining Moments of Phenomenal Women.

Consider Nancy to share the touch of God's grace for your next women's event. Whether it's an evening meeting, a weekend retreat, or a conference seminar, your women will be uplifted in their faith, encouraged to walk closer to the Lord, and come away with increased hope to face life's challenges.
